THIRTY THOUSAND IN STANDS

Day is Dark and Cloudy, but it Fails to Dampen the Enthusiasm of the Rooters for Both of the Teams.

00000000102-3

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.-Thirty thousand or more persons filled the wide reaches of the Brush stadium this afternoon to see the New York National and the Philadelphia Americans engage in the third contest of the world's championgame and many believe that the tide of victory would set in today and point the way to the final winner of the series. A dull gray day that was filled with portents of rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowds which wildly applauded the batting and fielding practice of the Athlettes and the Glants. The Giants in their sombre uniform of black were the first in the field and it was not until the home club had about conluded its batting practice that Phildelphia trotten on the diamond. A fine rain began to fall ten minutes before the game. Mathewson, Glants, and Coombs, Athletics, warmed up.

Philadelphians Are Confident. Philadelphians who came over to see today's game were brimming with confidence and ready to back their opinions with something besides words. The odds remained slightly in favor of the Giants. however, largely through the preponderance of New York money.

The Giants believe they will win the series. The players talked that way at the ciub house this morning, basing their connions on the form that Mathewson fouled out to Lapp. Mathewson sent up opinions on the form that Mathewson a high one, which Collins amothered. De-

Connie Mack and his Athletica wore sunny smiles today,

"They were good ball games, weren't they?" questioned Mack, and then added: There will be some more. We have just begun fighting. The Philadelphia players do not think that Mathewson will be as pussing now that they have had an opportunity to Harry taking third. Harry out at the look over his shoots and slants. "He's plate on Coombs' tap to Doyle, who wonder, though," said Eddie Collins,

MISSOURI VALLEY TEAM BEATS THE EXCELSIORS

The Excelsiors met defeat at the hands of Minsouri Vailey Sunday in a well-played game by the accre of 5 to 6.

Fensier made the lone touchdown in the second quarter by a brilliant end run. Kimmel for the Excelsiors secured the ball on a fumble in the third quarter and went for a touchdown, but was called back by Referee Cook and allowed back by Referee Cook and allowed a ten-yard penalty for Vailey's interference with a kicker.

The playing of Guinane, Moore, Foran, Glodin and Pahl of the Excelsiors and Fensier, Cox, Ladue and West of the Missouri Vailey team were the features of the game, for their sensational playing kept the score as low as it was. The lineup:

Men Mostly Hereditary.

"As all men are fully four-fifths hereditary," said Dr. Phelan, "the other fifth will depend upon circumstances, associstions, education, example, habit, moral training and other external causes. It is, therefore, evident that each individual will live according, with slight variations. to the usual habits of thinking, feeling and acting, as his ancestors. There may be on the surface a sufficient propriety of conduct to conform to the general usages of society; his inborn nature may be concealed by a veneer, but underneath is the real man with all his aversions to be employed in every emergency. Therefore, if we desire to lessen crime, insanity and other forms of degeneracy. should healtate to accept the low class of ever emigrants from foreign and other nations from the Black Hills district.
